Willow Canyon band member selected to play in All-American Band

DYSART SCHOOLS — At their year-end review marching band concert on Tuesday, the Willow Canyon Marching Band received word that one of their members has been selected as a U.S. Army All-American. Josh Barnes, a senior band member, has been recognized as a U.S. Army All-American band member. Barnes joins 90 band members nation-wide who have been selected as All-Americans.

With his selection, Josh will now join his fellow All-American band members to play during the U.S. Army High School All-American football game in San Antonio, Texas in January. Prior to the game, Barnes will spend a week in San Antonio practicing with the band and participating in activities. Barnes' recognition marks the first All-American selection for the Willow Canyon band. Willow Canyon High School's marching band, under the direction of Julie Trent, has seen many successes during this school year including a fourth place finish at the state band championship.
