FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE — OCTOBER 13, 2011

Valley Vista Performing Arts Center to host West Valley Symphony

DYSART SCHOOLS — Valley Vista Performing Arts Center will host the West Valley Symphony, which has announced a 2011-2012 calendar of concerts and special events appealing to Northwest Valley residents of all ages. West Valley Symphony, led by Maestro Cal Stewart Kellogg, will perform timeless works by master composers such as Mozart, Beethoven, Tchaikovsky and Mendelssohn. All shows are at 3 p.m., and the performances are as follows: November 13, Veteran's Day Salute, works by Copland and Sousa; December 18, Celebration of the Season with West Valley Chorale and tenor Ken Goodenberger; February 12, Classical Romance, with pianist Walter Cosand and Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto #2; March 11, How Suite It Is, works by Mendelssohn, Stravinsky and Ravel.

November concert-goers will have the opportunity to re-stock the shelves at Valley View Community Food Bank in Youngtown, just in time for the increased need during the holiday season. Bins for collecting the food items will be available in the lobby prior to November 13 concert.

All seating is general admission. Concert tickets are on sale now for $25 adult and $15 youth. Visit the West Valley Symphony at www.westvalleysymphony.org or call (623) 236-6781 to order tickets or receive additional information.
